ABOUT THE GROUP

The IFLR Women in Business Law Group exists to connect today's women legal practitioners across Europe and beyond to drive women leadership and development in the legal industry.

The Group promotes and champions the excellence of women in law through an exclusive online professional network, in-person meetings and premium content. It is a fully inclusive platform, welcoming men as well as women, partner to associate level, C-suite to administrative. As such the Group, IFLR and its members recognise the importance of building the talent management pipeline to bring in the next generation of legal women leaders.

EVENTS

The annual IFLR Women in Business Law Forum takes place every June in London and is the largest gathering of Group members and external women counsel in the Group's calendar. Regularly registering over 300 people, the Forum provides a whole day of leadership skill building, work/life balance management advice, interactive breakout sessions on building your brand, unconscious bias and more.

The Group also hosts the annual Networking Drinks every November and features an opening speech by a keynote speaker. Previous keynotes have included Funke Abimbola MBE and Chloe Chambraud, gender equality director at Business in the Community, the Prince's Responsible Business Network.

INTERVIEWS

Drawing on IFLR's editorial team, the Group publishes content curated specifically for the needs of the members. We have published interviews with:

- Clare Wardle, general counsel & company secretary, Coca-Cola European Partners
- Julia von Buttlar, deputy head of division, securities supervision directorate, BaFin
- Natalie Edwards, general counsel, M&A legal, Citi
- Yibing Mao, APAC chief legal officer, Marriott International
- Mary Schapiro, director, CVS Health and Morgan Stanley
- And there's more to come.

CURATED CONTENT

Our editorial and content team, as well as our law firm supporters, provide regular articles as part of the Best Practice series. These articles cover topics such as mentoring, leadership, building your brand, supporting working parents and much more. Content also features Q&As with senior women lawyers from both in house counsel and private practice.

WEBINARS

For content accessible on the go and available on demand, the Group hosts a range of webinars focusing on actionable skill building and development tips for you to implement straightaway.
